PROTECTION FOREVER.

The Pennsylvania Republican State Convention met at Harrisburg, June 30, and the Opera House was packed with delegates and spectators. Every delegation was present with full members and there were no contests. G. T. Oliver was elected temporary Chairman by a unanimous vote. Oliver, in taking the Chair, spoke of the enthusiasm of the convention and addressed himself to the tariff. He said: "The Republicans of this great State should proclaim to the world that we demand a tariff not for revenue only, not even for revenue with incidental protection, but for protection alone. I mention this issue particularly, because it is so interwoven with the prosperity of our people that it is necessarily paramount in the minds of all Pennsylvanians. The fact that it remains unsettled is reason enough for continuance in life of any party, but there are others second only to it in importance. The question of mutual rights and the duties of capital and labor and the enactment of laws guarding the interests of common carriers and shippers. These and other matters demand the attention of our legislators, both State and national."

The tariff address adopted by the Convention reviews the history of the tariff since 1832. To show that the Democratic party "has for the last fifty years legislated against the best interests of the American people in the direction of free trade, to the great detriment of American industry," reference is made to the repeal of the Democratic Free Trade law by a Republican Congress in 1861, when the Morrill Tariff Act was passed, and "for the first time in the history of the country," says the address, "we have had twenty years of uninterrupted protection to American labor and capital." Figures are quoted to show that in 1860 the total value of property in the country was $14,000,000,000. In 1880 the total value was $44,000,000,000, an increase in twenty years of $30,000,000,000, or more than double the accumulated property from 1860 to 1880. During the ten years of free trade ended in 1861, our imports exceeded our exports $40,367,974. Under the operation of the ten years of protection ended June 30, 1880, our exports exceeded our imports $1,306,543,249, or an annual average of $130,654,324, a net gain in our favor of $170,000,000 a year. Reference is made to the attempted tariff legislation by the Democrats since 1875, when they obtained control of the House, each of which is denounced as dangerous attempts to overthrow the great system which has built up the industries of the country. In closing, attention is brought to the fact that the Democrats are still determined to insist upon reduction of duties, and to abolish the tariff upon the raw materials, thus further menacing the prosperity of the country.

Senator Dolph has introduced a bill granting a pension of $50 a month to Mrs. Lizzie Wright Owen. The lady is the daughter of General George Wright, who, during the war, commanded the forces in California, and who in 1865, when en route with his wife to Portland, was lost by the wreck of the steamer Brother Jonathan. Mrs. Owen's brother, Colonel Tom Wright, was killed during the Modoc war. She is the only surviving child of General Wright.

According to revised estimates it cost $265,000 to elect Henry B. Payne to the United States Senate from Ohio. The question still remains, however, whether such an election elects.

COME TO STAY.—The best proof that Hon. W. M. Stewart has come to Nevada to stay, is the building of an expensive residence and fitting up one of the finest law offices in Nevada. The Senator knows what he is about and realizes the fact that very much mining litigation will occur in the near future. The question may well be asked where is Uncle Jimmy Fair's property in Nevada, and what has he done but to take poor people's money to expend it in California.—Carson Tribune.

THE SESSION OF CONGRESS.

A Poor Outlook for an Early Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—It must be confessed that the prospect for an early adjournment of Congress becomes less bright each day. It is not improbable that there will be a regular tangle of legislation before many days. As yet only two or three of the appropriation bills have been finally passed by both Houses and received the approval of the President. Several of the others are "hung up" in conference committees, while the General Deficiency bills and the Fortifications bill have not yet been considered in the House where they originated. The close of the fiscal year has come, and consequently there will be no need of special legislation to meet the emergency. It is likely that a joint resolution will be passed to authorize the several branches of the Government to extend temporarily the appropriations for the present year until the pending bills can be passed and approved at the White House, otherwise the whole operation of the Government in all of its ramifications would have to come to a sudden stop with the close of the present month.

It is thought that the President is only waiting for the River and Harbor bills in order to get in another veto, and that he has been for some time working up reasons for repudiating the measure. The last has not been heard of his vetoes on pension bills. The House Committee on Invalid Pensions is considering the question of bringing a number of these vetoes to the attention of the House and making test cases of them. The President has already received a hard blow in the action of the Senate in passing the Des Moines Land bill over his veto, a matter which created considerable excitement at the capital this morning when the veto was taken up, and he may receive a few more before the end of the session. All this tends to make the day of adjournment very uncertain. Those who think the session will last until August are growing in number.

Silk Culture in Mexico.

Consul-General Forch has sent to the State Department an elaborate account of silk culture in Mexico. He says it is believed that in the next five years there will be more silk manufactured in Mexico than can be utilized by the people. There are already several factories. One of these manufactured last year 30,000 pounds of raw silk. They expect to produce all the different colors which are used in the manufacture of silk. The fact that labor is so cheap in that country, he says, enables the manufacturers to make silk for one-half of what it costs in Paris.

STUFF AND NONSENSE.

Carson Appeal.

Senator Fair was right heartily welcomed by Nevada, for whose interests he had been alert during this session of Congress. He has first rank amongst the business Senators, and that is why he always carries a practical proposition in the interests of his State.—Alta.

The above is the acme of stuff and nonsense. Fair was not heartily welcomed here and never will be. When the train pulled out of Reno the Democracy filled the air with profanity as long as the train was in sight. This was because Fair allowed Downing to monopolize his time instead of the regular old wheel-horse Democrats.

When Fair reached San Francisco he had a long interview published in the Chronicle, in which he quietly takes all the credit to himself for opening the Carson Mint. He let his foot slip badly, however, and showed what a bungling liar he was, by telling the reporter that he had personally interviewed every member of the Ways and Means Committee to see that the Mint was provided for. Now the Ways and Means Committee have nothing to do with it at all; it rests with the Appropriation Committee entirely. Of all the awkward blunders this man has made, this is by far the worst, and yet his friends set up the clamor that he has more than the ordinary cunning of his kind. Fair has had no more to do with opening the Mint than Dobson's mule. He has neglected everything that pertained to it, and is lying like a house afire to recover lost ground.

The Committee on Horribles of the Carson celebration extend a hearty invitation to the residents of Washoe county to "stand in" with them in their procession in the afternoon at the Capital.

NEVADA.

A State that has Produced Within 25 Years Over $400,000,000 in Precious Metals.

Oakland, Cal., Times, June 28.

This much abused State has added to the material wealth of the world more in proportion to its population than any other country under the sun. Roughly since, say, 1860, the population may be stated as averaging between forty and fifty thousand people, men, women and children, and the product of bullion has been in the vicinity of $400,000,000. This in round numbers would give some $8,000 as the coin product of each individual in Nevada. But a few years ago all that Uncle Sam marked on the maps to show where Nevada is now located was "scientifically unexplored region." No rivers or mountain ranges were marked. Some called it part of the Great American Desert, which name was applied to all the country between the Rocky Mountains and the Sierra Nevada. The average trip was between three and six months to cross it, and the Indians occasionally caused considerable trouble. On March 2, 1861, the bill creating the Territory of Nevada was passed and three counties of Utah—Carson, St. Mary and Humboldt were lopped off and started into existence as the Territory of Nevada. On July 4, 1864, at noon, the Constitutional Convention met in Carson City and agreed to a State Constitution, which was approved by the people, and President Lincoln announced that Nevada was one of the States of the Union. The mining industry of Nevada attracted, in its time, as much attention as any country in the world, and experts were sent from nearly every civilized country to report on that wonderful ledge, the Comstock. The fame of this great lode enabled Adolph Sutro to borrow sufficient money to run a tunnel to tap the lode at about 1,700 feet below the surface. This tunnel will now be of great advantage in working the low grade ores from the Comstock, and will be the means of utilizing many million tons of ore that otherwise would have been valueless. How many of the present buildings in San Francisco are the result of the product of that great lode? The Palace Hotel, Cosmopolitan, Baldwin, Sherwood's buildings, Andrew McGreary's buildings, Nevada block, Flood's, Fair's and other property too numerous to mention. In fact the impetus given to every industry on the coast by the discovery of the Comstock was wonderful, and the reaction now that Nevada's business has been reduced, is apparent in every branch of trade on this coast. Nevada has already turned many hundred miles of her desert lands into a garden, by the use of water, and although she adopted the Common law of England as the law governing in cases, in equity, the people were very careful to place men of sufficient intelligence on the Supreme bench, who would interpret the law in accordance with the true interests of the people. Her Supreme bench has always been the pride of the State since the people had the power to elect them, and it is no wonder that the Senators who have been sent by Nevada to Washington, were both able and influential, for the people of Nevada are about as intelligent as can be found in any country. This agitation over water would soon be adjusted in that State, and their condition is very similar to our own. Without water, nothing can be raised in Nevada, but on even her deserts the addition of a stream of water renders the soil capable of producing abundantly any of the cereals or fruits of the temperate zone. The future of Nevada is full of promise, and, although mining will be carried on for many years, it is quite likely that farming and grazing will yet be the great industries of that State. The climate for health is unsurpassed anywhere, and if the people were willing to work there as they are compelled to do elsewhere, she can furnish employment for many thousand people, and their labor will be well rewarded.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: J. A. Blossom, of Battle Mountain, is being entered in the gubernatorial race by his friends in northern Lander and eastern Humboldt. They truthfully claim that he has been a wise adviser in Republican councils as well as an active worker in the ranks of the party in Nevada before and since it was admitted as a State, and is rightfully entitled, as well as eminently qualified, to head the ticket in the ensuing campaign. He is in the true and broad sense of the term a "permanent resident" and representative of the State. He came to the Humboldt in the days that tried the stomachs as well as the courage of men, and has grown up and expanded physically and financially with the country. He married in Nevada and raised boys, now almost old enough to vote, in Nevada, and is thoroughly identified with the two great industries of the State—mining and cattle raising. It is meet and proper that his friends should demand recognition for him in a convention of the party whose battles he has been fighting since he was old enough to vote, and insist that Lander's favorite son shall be its standard bearer in the forthcoming campaign.
